Russell Bedford reports continued growth in IAB World Survey

Multi-award-winning global professional services network, Russell Bedford International, has reported some notable performance statistics following an analysis of the recently released International Accounting Bulletin's 2023 World Survey results, which includes fee data and growth rates of all international accounting groups.

Growing by an impressive 9% in 2022, Russell Bedford International has maintained its position as a Top 20 international network, while continuing to record the consistent growth it has demonstrated in recent years.

The network recorded the seventh fastest growth increase of all networks in the Top 20 and more than double the average growth across all international networks, outside the Big Four.

In four of its six regions, Russell Bedford was positioned in the Top 10 in terms of percentage growth achieved, with Asia reporting the 3rd highest increase of all Top 20 networks. Furthermore, the network recorded the 2nd greatest net increase in number of new member firms.

Russell Bedford's CEO, Stephen Hamlet, commented: "I'm delighted to see such positive statistics for the network, once more, following the release of the International Accounting Bulletin's World Survey. After yet another strong year, the statistics speak for themselves and I'm very proud to see the continued advancement of our global network in all areas; an indication of excellent performance."

He added: "As a network committed to expanding our global footprint, network development is always high on our strategic agenda, hence, coming 2nd with respect to the greatest net increase in number of new member firms is incredibly rewarding. This is evidence that our strategy is working; we're hitting our targets while delivering on our promises to our members. I'm excited to continue our collective hard work and determination with the unrelenting support of our international board of directors, the Central Office team and of course, our members around the globe."

KRP LLP Celebrates Its 50th Anniversary

The sheer scope of member firms doing extraordinary work across the Russell Bedford International network is always cause for celebration. More so when we have an opportunity to help one of those firms recognise a major milestone. Such is the case for Canadian member KRP LLP, which has just launched a celebration of its 50th anniversary that will carry through the end of the year.

Founded in 1973, KRP provides accounting, assurance, tax and consulting services to entrepreneurs across all industries. The firm has consistently expanded its footprint and is now powered by a team of more than 35 individuals which includes tax specialists, accountants, strategic consultants and support staff. Just as some partners and team members have come and gone over that time, KRP has remained steadfast in its commitment to serving as a trusted advisor, carrying the same core values in place since its inception.

KRP was appointed as the Toronto member of Russell Bedford in May 2000.

Since then, KRP has established a strong reputation as an accounting and strategic advisor to organizations expanding into or outside of Canada. The KRP team also regularly engages with Russell Bedford member firms in need of tax, compliance or advisory support for clients exporting to, or building businesses within, Canada.

"KRP LLP is a wonderful example of a Russell Bedford member firm that leverages their extensive in-house experience and expertise and works collaboratively across our network to help global businesses achieve their strategic objectives," said Russell Bedford International CEO Stephen Hamlet. "We offer our warmest congratulations and wish them another 50 years of success."

According to KRP Co-Managing Partner and former Russell Bedford board member Armando Iannuzzi, Russell Bedford has been an asset in extending KRP's global reach. The firm maintains active relationships with major banks, partner accounting and law firms internationally, with a focus on delivering the best possible service experience, technical expertise and network reach to its clients. The Russell Bedford affiliation has helped to deepen many of those connections.

"We've seen extensive economic globalization across both mature and emerging markets in recent decades, so having international service capacity has become essential for growth-focused accounting firms," Iannuzzi explained. "At KRP, we believe there are no borders to business opportunity—and Russell Bedford has been an integral partner in unlocking the international expansion potential for a firm like ours."

It's a sentiment echoed by Iannuzzi's Co-Managing Partner George Grignano, who added: "The foundation of our firm's success has been mutually beneficial business relationships, which have only enhanced our ability to understand our clients' most pressing challenges and opportunities, then address their global needs in the most comprehensive way possible.

"We've had the pleasure of working with many of our clients for decades, while building ever-stronger bonds with Russell Bedford network firms across North America and around the world. It's a key relationship we'll continue to build in the years to come."
